

OctoPerf and Intelligent Delivery Solution cooperate to offer a complete performance offer in the UK

Marseille, the 05th of July 2018, OctoPerf, the performance testing software editor, is proud to announce the certification of Intelligent Delivery Solutions on OctoPerf SaaS and On-Premise solutions.

To further demonstrate Intelligent Delivery Solutions' commitment to OctoPerf, it's consultancy team undertook the necessary training and testing to obtain an official OctoPerf certification, and by delivering these skills through expert consultancy and testing services, will enable its clients to extract the most value from OctoPerf performance testing solutions.

Quentin Hamard, co-founder of OctoPerf says: "Beyond this certification, the idea for OctoPerf is to cooperate with a seasoned and dynamic team able to provide a complete offer on performance services (APM and Performance testing) in the UK. Our presence in the UK is growing month to month. It is very important for us to rely on a local partner able to provide both APM and Performance testing expertise to cover a great part of our customers' performance issues".

"We are not only delighted with our new partnership, but also confident the addition of OctoPerf's performance testing software tool to our suite of solutions will further enhance the delivery of our performance testing services, at the same time driving opportunities within new markets and industries to us. We very much look forward to introducing OctoPerf to our clients who will ultimately reap the many rewards from this innovative tool " - James Briers, Delivery & Solutions Director.
